The Million Dollar Project!

6th Grade Extra Credit: Due Friday, June 12, 2015

Congratulations! You have been given $1,000,000. As a part of this inheritance, you have certain guidelines you must follow on how to spend it. Make sure to follow the rules carefully 😊

Rule #1: Education

- Put at least $100,000 away for your college education. Research the cost of the education for one year at your favorite university.
- Add on an additional 15% to the tuition for the cost of books and other expenses related to your education.
- Multiply the total by four to see your grand total for 4 years of college.

Rule #2: Own a Home

- Use websites like trulia.com and zillow.com to find a home that you feel is perfect for you. This house may not cost more than $450,000.
- Write down any information you find on the house like the number of bedrooms, bathrooms, the town the home is in, etc.

Rule #3: Vacation!

- Plan a family vacation. Think of a place that your immediate family would like to go on vacation. Use websites like expedia.com or kayak.com to find out how much it would cost for your airfare and hotel.
- You must include where you are choosing to go and how long you are planning to stay. Remember, the longer your vacation is the more money it is going to cost!
Rule #4: Donate

- Make a charitable donation. Please remember that giving money to family or friends does not qualify as a charity. Find a charity that means something to you and give them a donation based on a project they are working on.

In Addition...

- All of the information for this project should be typed up. It does not need to be in paragraph form, you may use bullets like I used in the description. Be sure to include detail!
- In addition to the write up, you must create a poster (on a sheet of computer paper) representing your choices. I would like your name to be large and in the middle and surrounding it, there should be pictures similar to the following:
  - Your college logo or mascot
  - At least 3 pictures to represent your vacation
  - The home you purchased
  - The donation you contributed to

If you do not have access to a computer and need assistance doing your research, please let me know before the due date and I will be happy to help you.

This is an optional assignment. If you choose to do it, the attached rubric must be handed in with your name written on the top. You may staple your write up to the back of your poster.

Good luck!
